A REJECTED SUITOR.

DEALS DEATH TO HIS FIANCEE'S FAMILY AND FRIENDS.

Poisons the Flour for Revenge—He Is Just from the Chester Penitentiary, and "Fired" for That Reason—Lynching Probable.

SALEM, Ill., Feb. 16.—When the first report was obtained of the death by poisoning of James Morton, south of here, the news was only meagre. The later information is very startling.

The facts, as far as they can be determined, are that Morton and his two daughters became very sick just after breakfast and Dr. Thomas J. Green of this place was sent for. The family had eaten some canned tomatoes that had been put up in old cans. Mr. Morton died, and as the two girls were still very sick, Dr. Green remained.

Neighbors came in, breakfast was prepared and biscuits were made. Dr. Green, ex-Supervisor John English and two ladies partook of breakfast, and all were soon after deathly sick. One lady, who had only eaten one-half of a biscuit, was able to move about, and she gave the alarm to the neighbors. Soon a crowd gathered, and the couriers were sent to this place and Odin for medical aid.

Two More Doctors Summoned.

Dr. J. J. Fiske of Odin and Dr. J. E. Schoonover of this place started to the scene of the poisoning in haste. They were soon followed by Coroner Lakin and State Attorney Jennings. The coroner went down to hold an inquest over the body of Morton, and the state attorney to assist at the inquest and to ferret out the cause of the poisoning.

It is given out by people of the neighborhood that a young man living near the Mortons was suspected of putting poison in the flour barrel in the Morton kitchen some time during the night before the parties became sick, with the object of killing the entire family. The same man is charged with having broken into a schoolhouse near his home, during the holidays one year ago, and having taken a lot of schoolbooks which he took to Carlyle, Ill., and sold. He was arrested there, brought here, indicted and sent to the Chester penitentiary for one year. He was recently discharged and came home.

Was It Revenge?

Soon after getting home, it is said, he attempted to call upon one of the Morton girls, whom he had courted before he was sent to the penitentiary and who he claimed had promised to marry him. He was driven away from the house. The young lady would have nothing more to do with him, and Mr. Morton forbade him to appear on the premises. From all the facts the young man is suspected of poisoning the family for revenge.

It is so far from town and the roads are so muddy that at a late hour there was no news as to the condition of Dr. Green and the other patients.

May Cause a Lynching.

It is supposed they are in a very serious condition or the physicians would have returned by this time.

Dr. Green's wife has gone to see him, leaving a sick child at home. The general impression is that if the crime is fastened on the suspect he will never live to have a trial. He belongs to one of the first families, and, until his first trouble, was considered a first-class young farmer boy. It is the general impression that the flour was poisoned and that a sufficient amount of the drug was mixed in the biscuit to do the dreadful work.

Indians and Cowboys Fight.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 16.—A hot fight is said to be raging between cowboys and Indians near Coolidge station, on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad, and dispatches from there say that the Indians have been noticed carrying three of their dead from the field of battle. The fighting is said to be the most desperate, and the cowboys, who are greatly outnumbered, are contesting every inch of ground. According to telegrams received here the fight is in progress near Coddington's ranch, which is not a great distance from Coolidge. Each side is in the timber and they are shooting at each other from behind trees. A rumor reports that if the cowboys are not soon reinforced the Indians would annihilate them. Many in Coolidge have left to join their associates, but the actual result of the fight has not been received.

A Crazy Banker.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 16.—The State bank of Greenville, which was started sometime since by J. B. Little, supposed to have been of unsound mind, and little capital, has been closed by the sheriff. Little advertised for expert accountants and bookkeepers and started off finely, but with precious few depositors, and soon got into trouble. After the bank was closed he broke open the doors, tearing off the seal, and took possession of some books, etc. He will probably be placed in the insane asylum.

Three Miners Killed.

DENVER, Feb. 16.—A frightful accident occurred in the Mollie Gibson silver mine at Aspen, Col., through which the following miners were killed: Michael Eggers, W. L. Hirpe and M. Caples.

A LIFE-MAN PARDONED.

His Wife, Who Had Secured His Release, Met Him at the Gate.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 16.—Benjamin Scott of Springfield, Mo., an inmate of the northern Indiana penitentiary at Michigan City, has been released after serving two years of a life sentence. Governor Chase having exercised executive clemency. Scott comes of a good family, is a graduate of the Missouri state university, and married the daughter of a wealthy resident of Springfield shortly before he committed the crime of murder in 1889. Scott came from Missouri to Elkhart to look at some property interests he had acquired there. The neighbors whose land abutted on Scott's had a lawless and pernicious habit of throwing their refuse on Scott's lot. He remonstrated in a civil manner, but instead of having the desired effect it only increased the refuse pile. One day when Scott was making a second remonstrance the people began to taunt him, calling him names and otherwise abusing him. Con Crowley, one of the crowd, rushed upon him in a threatening manner, and Scott pulled out his knife and fatally stabbed his assailant. Scott's wife, who has been persistent in her efforts to secure a pardon, met her husband at the prison gate.

A Determined Fugitive.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 16.—Wilhelmina Kaltzine, the runaway wife of Louis Kaltzine, a Topeka blacksmith, arrived in the city and took lodgings at the Green Tree Hotel. At the time of her arrival she had in her possession $1090. Kaltzine found her and caused her arrest. At the station her husband pleaded with her to return home, but she rejected his overtures, saying that if she returned she would receive the treatment of a dog. When Kaltzine was convinced that she would not return he asked for the money. At first she denied that she had taken it, but afterward admitted that she had $710 in her room at the hotel. She accompanied an officer to the hotel and surrendered the cash. Again the husband renewed his entreaties for her to go back, but in vain. At the hotel at the time was Chas. Winter, also of Topeka, and from remarks dropped by the woman it appeared that he had instigated the desertion, and this led to the suspicion that he had the rest of the money. The husband will probably cause his arrest.

Is About Over.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—"To military men along the frontier the warlike dispatches published in the north regarding the Garza matter afford much amusement," said Colonel J. P. Martin, adjutant general of the department of Texas of the United States army, at the Grand Pacific Hotel. "No one down there pays any attention to the Garza business," continued Colonel Martin; "there is no fighting between Garza's band and Captain Hardie's company. Some shots were exchanged, but that was through mistake. The American soldiers ran upon Garza's people in the dark, neither party knowing of the proximity of the other. Garza's pickets challenged our men and not receiving a satisfactory answer and ignorant of the identity of the new comers, fired and fled. Anyway the whole affair is about over."

Child and Emperor.

ATLANTON, Kas., Feb. 16.—Bernard J. Schmitz, a well-to-do farmer of Atchison county, went to Germany last November to visit his old home. Immediately upon his arrival in that country he was arrested for deserting the German army thirty years before. The matter was placed in the hands of the United States minister in Germany, but all efforts to secure Schmitz's release appeared fruitless. Schmitz' 11-year-old daughter, however, wrote a letter to the emperor of Germany, from her home in this country, setting forth in a childish manner the facts in the case, and asking for her father's release on his birthday, which came on the 28th of last month. The letter reached the monarch on the 27th, and he was so touched by it that he issued a pardon for the deserter and he is now on his way home.

Bunco Steerer Arrested.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16.—An expert bunco steerer, Andrew M. Orebaugh, was arrested in this city by detectives charged with being a dangerous and suspicious character. Orebaugh was arrested two weeks ago at Dallas, Tex., on suspicion of his knowing something about $6000 worth of diamonds which were missing from Dr. Gray's room at the Windsor Hotel. The prisoner is the man, who, some time ago at Hot Springs, Ark., steered Manager Warrington of "Skipped by the Light of the Moon" combination against a braced game in which the theatrical man dropped $3500.

Foot Up Over a Million.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The state department will be astonished when it gets the formal claim of the sailors on the Baltimore founded by the Valparaiso mob. Lawyer F. Alleyne Orr has the cases of twenty-four men who were all wounded in Valparaiso streets. They are common sailors or coal heavers, but their combined claims foot up $1,365,000.
